Promotions Announced

Publisher Irving E. Rogers announced this week the promotion of two members of the TOWNSMAN staff.

Robert E. Finneran has been named editor and Michael A. Masessa, Jr., advertising and business manager.

Finneran, managing editor since September of 1968, will now assume the additional duties of editor.

Masessa has been a member of the TOWNSMAN staff for three years, serving most recently as assistant advertising manager.

A graduate of North Andover schools, Finneran received his B.A. degree in economics and English from Providence College in 1953, and currently serves on the Alumni Board of Governors of the Rhode Island school.

He began his newspaper career at the Boston Post, moving to the Lawrence Eagle-Tribune in January of 1954. He served in various editorial

Andover Honors Nation's Birthday With Solemnity . . .

A Festival Service celebrating the 200th birthday of our nation will be held at 9:30 a.m., Sunday, July 4 at Cochran Chapel, Phillips Academy. This is an ecumenical, inter-faith service supported by all Andover churches and faiths and sponsored by the Bicentennial Committee.

Carolyn Skelton, organist, will play early American music, assisted by a choir from Phillips Academy. Historical readings from the Declaration of Independence and from Patrick Henry's speech which included the famous phrase "Give me Liberty or give me Death" will be presented. The sermon "Remembering the Future" will be a dialogue between the past and the present delivered by Rev. J. Everett Bodge and Rev. David Hollenbeck.

The congregation will join in singing "America the Beautiful" as the service ends.

From 11 a.m. until noon Martin A. Gillman, carillonneur of the city of Norwood, will play the bells in the Memorial Bell Tower and at 2 p.m. those bells, as well as all church bells in Andover and the nation, will ring for four minutes commemorating the actual signing of the Declaration of Independence.

Sally Slade Warner will follow this with an hour recital of patriotic tunes on the carillon.

. . . And Festivity

The seventh annual town of Andover Fourth of July observance, complete package of fun and family recreation, is set for Sunday afternoon and evening at the Playstead and The Park at East Junior High School.

Continuing the theme of the past year, old time celebration, old time prices, the events will get underway at noon and continue through to a spectacular fireworks display at dusk.

Chairman John D. Lewis and his committee have planned events to suit all tastes for young and old, with band concerts, booths, refreshments at bargain prices, special events, races, arts and crafts shows.

The program is designed to continue the Bicentennial theme which begins with special observances on Sunday morning.

As has been custom in the past, a steam calliope will sound the opening of the events at 12 noon and continue to apprise residents of the festivities by tunelessly visiting around the town.

Other musical events include programs by The Gay Nineties, Revellers, New Black Eagle Jazz Band, Lap Wing, rock and roll group, Clan MacPherson band and the Citation Drum and Bugle Corps, the latter two groups performing prior to the fireworks display.

A crafts show from 1 to 5 p.m. will feature loom and weaving demonstrations, spinning wheel and candle making exhibits.

An art show by the Andover Artists' Guild will be on view also from 1 to 5 p.m.

Rides for youngsters will include: airplane, train, moonwalk, whip, fire truck, antique car, antique truck and ponies.

There will also be a number

A special town meeting has been called for Monday, Aug. 16, to provide funds for repair of the high school roof.

The decision was made Monday night at a joint meeting of selectmen, school officials and finance committee members.

Generally agreed was that the special meeting route was the only legal recourse to providing the funds for the needed repairs estimated to cost between $50,000 and $225,000.

School Committee Chairman George F. Olesen informed the selectmen that the school department had some $130,000 in funds from its budget about to expire which could be encumbered, plus $13,000 in Chapter 824 funds and an additional $30,000 which could be provided from its maintenance budget for next year.

Olesen said the school committee was prepared to go forward with the project with these funds, asking replacement at the October town meeting, if necessary.

But, all indications were that the funds could not be encumbered, or used, without town meeting approval.

Charles Wesson, FinCom chairman, said that he had talked with the Bureau of Accounts in Boston and had been advised that only town meeting could provide the necessary funding and said he was admonished for thinking otherwise, when he had suggested alternatives to a special town meeting.

Town Manager J. Maynard Austin, who supported the special town meeting route, said that it is fundamental in New England towns that only town meeting can spend the money.

Town Counsel Alfred Daniels agreed and said that if Wesson had not called the state bureau of accounts, he would have to affirm the opinion.

General concern is whether or not a quorum of 350 voters can be obtained for a special town meeting in the summer-time.

What to do if the quorum is not obtained?

Town Manager Austin stated, "Keep trying."

Commuter Service Is Ended

As was anticipated, the cessation of passenger train service to Andover in April was simply a prelude to the termination of the commuter special to the area.

Lawrence and Haverhill have ended their subsidy payment for continued once-a-day train service to the area and the final run to and from Boston took place Wednesday.

Mayor John J. Buckley of Lawrence and Mayor Louis F. Burton of Haverhill decided to drop the service in view of the amount the cities would have to pay for the few commuters using the service. In Lawrence the cost was $16,800.

The Andover Rail Committee (ARC), a group of train riders, rescued the train service a little over a year ago when they pledged funds to keep the train rolling until an annual town meeting could make a deciding vote.

Town meeting in 1975 approved continuation for a year, but the costs escalated to the point where a deficit had been incurred by the Boston and Maine by early this year, the funds provided by the town being substantially less than those required to keep the train operating through the end of fiscal 1975-'76.

In April, the selectmen on the recommendation of ARC, voted to suspend service. North Andover had dropped off the line over a year ago.

Additional Storage Approved

Daniel J. Olenio, 82 Ayer St., Methuen was granted permission by the selectmen this week to increase the storage of gasoline for his service station at 96 Haverhill St., Andover.

The permit had been tabled for two weeks until Town Manager J. Maynard Austin could determine if a zoning violation would be incurred by the additional storage. The station is in a non-conforming use area.

Town Counsel ruled that it was not in violation to increase storage. The board of appeals previously had denied a permit for Olenio to expand the physical plant.

Selectmen Not Cooling Experts

There were some asides issued during the selectmen's meeting Monday night relative to air conditioning, presumably for the benefit of the members of the Finance Committee who were in attendance.

School Committee Chairman George F. Olesen told the selectmen that the West School auditorium was not airconditioned, as had been announced for a hearing scheduled by the Growth Policy Committee.

Chairman Milton Greenberg of the selectmen thanked Olesen for the correction, but advised, "we are not experts in air conditioning. Others in the room can handle that."

The Finance Committee at a town meeting over a year ago, objected to the selectmen's request for the purchase of air conditioners for the meeting room at Memorial Hall Library.

FinCom Chairman Charles Wesson and other members of the group acknowledged Greenberg's recognition of cooling "expertise", with a smile.

Hearing Due On Road For Junction

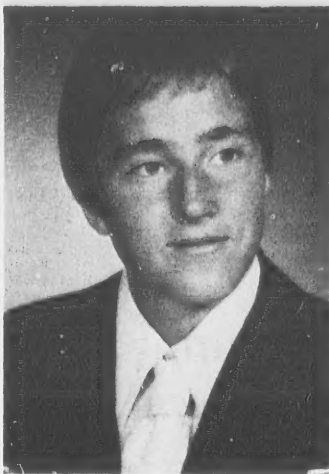

A public hearing probably to be held at South School on July 12 will focus on the need for an access road from Route 93 to the Lowell Junction industrial area.

The hearing is set by the Tri-Town Locus Planning Study Committee, and involves the towns of Andover, Wilmington and Tewksbury. Assistant Town Manager

Sheldon Cohen explains that the hearing is necessary to get things moving toward an Environmental Impact Study, the initial step in access road planning.

The impact study will take about two years, thus relief for the junction and Vale area does not appear to be just down the road.

Mater From

In true Navy tradition, William C. Materna, USNR, turned over command of the Armed Forces Center in Lawrence to Lt. Commander T. Carlin, USN. Change of Command Ceremony held at the center on June 27, 1976.

Cdr. Materna retired after 20 years of service, which included duty with the U.S. Sixth Fleet in the Berlin Crisis, tours at numerous Naval Air Stations throughout the world, including the Staff, Naval Air Reserve Force, and amassed over 100 commandings and 4000 flight hours in various types of fighter, submarine, transport and cargo aircraft.

A reception was held to honor the retiring officer and invited guests upon completion of formal ceremonies.

Cdr. Materna has been assigned as commanding officer, Naval Air Station, Marine Corps Reserve.

Andover Cadets On Cruise

Two Andover students, among 173 cadets aboard the Texas Clipper, the training ship of the Texas Maritime Academy, which visited in Boston recently. Cadets Christie F. Bartlett and Brian D. Bartlett are aboard the ship for the summer season.

The Texas Clipper departed Andover June 6 and will arrive in Texas August 1.

The cruise, designed to celebrate the centennial activity of the Texas Maritime Academy, also celebrates the centennial of Texas A. & M. University. Texas Maritime Academy is a component of the state maritime system, is a component of the Moody College of Maritime Studies and Marine Resources of Texas A. & M. University.

Bartlett is a marine transportation major while Bartlett is studying marine sciences. Upon successful completion of their respective curricula, they will receive the bachelor of science degree from Texas A. & M. University plus U.S. Coast Guard licensing as third officers.

Materna Retires From Navy Post

In true Navy tradition, Commander William C. Materna, USNR, turned over command of the Armed Forces Reserve Center in Lawrence to Cdr. Bernard T. Carlin, USNR at a Change of Command Ceremony held at the center on Sunday, June 27, 1976.

Cdr. Materna retired after 30 years of service, which included duty with the U.S. Sixth Fleet, service in the Berlin Crisis, and tours at numerous Naval Air Stations throughout the country including the Staff, Commander, Naval Air Reserve Forces. During this time, Cdr. Materna amassed over 100 carrier landings and 4000 flight hours in various types of fighter, anti-submarine, transport and training aircraft.

A reception was held for invited guests upon completion of formal ceremonies.

Cdr. Materna has been Commanding Officer, Naval and Marine Corps Reserve Center since July 22, 1972. He is married to the former Gabrielle Feldman Rosengard of Chestnut Hills and Magnolia. They make their home in Andover.

Andover Cadets On Cruise

Two Andover students were among 173 cadets aboard T/S Texas Clipper, the training ship of Texas Maritime Academy which visited in Boston recently.

Cadets Christie F. Barry and Brian D. Bartlett are aboard the twelfth annual summer training session.

Texas Clipper departed Galveston June 6 and will return to Texas August 1.

The cruise, designated a bicentennial activity of the State of Texas, also celebrates the centennial of Texas A & M University. Texas Maritime, one of five state maritime academies, is a component of Moody College of Marine Sciences and Maritime Resources of Texas A & M University.

Barry is a marine transportation major while Bartlett is studying marine sciences. Both, upon successful completion of their respective curricula, will receive the bachelor of science degree from Texas A & M University plus U.S. Coast Guard licensing as third officers.

Tennis Exhibition In Lawrence

John Alexander, the number one singles player for the Boston Lobsters and the eleventh ranked player in the world, will be in Lawrence on Saturday, July 17, to play several exhibition matches and to conduct a tennis clinic.

The program, which is being sponsored by Lawrence Intown in cooperation with Old Colony Tennis Club, will take place from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. right on Essex Street, in the block between Amesbury and Lawrence Streets.

Details for the street exhibition are still being worked out, and anyone who is interested in participating in the program in some way or has suggestions should contact him at the Chamber of Commerce office.

In Appreciation

Since William F. Reinhold, Sr. founded the Reinhold shoe store in Andover over 30 years ago, Reinhold's has filled a need in the town's retail community. We have now sold the business to an experienced shoe man who will continue the business under the same Reinhold name. Louis Pfeifle takes over the business this week.

We wish to express our thanks to the people of Andover who have patronized our store during all these years. As we retire, we will always have fond memories of our years in Andover.

West Graduates Receive Awards

Patrick Henry's famous quotation of March, 1775, set the mood for the graduation Assembly at Andover West Junior High School on June 22.

"I know of no way of judging the future," Henry said, "but by the past."

Svenson Retiring At West Jr. High

Wilfred Svenson, senior custodian at West Jr. High and a custodian in Andover schools for 15 years, will retire at the end of July.

Svenson's retirement was accepted by the School Committee Tuesday night, along with the resignation of Mrs. Nancy Brown, an instructional aide at Bancroft.

The committee also elected Miss Paula Eichner of Andover to teach English and Math at West Jr. High in September; John Fawcett of Ashburnham to teach industrial arts at West Jr. High; William Fleishmann of North Andover, science at West Jr. High, and Everett Rudolph, business of Melrose, business education at the high school.

Mrs. Janice Zlatev of Andover was appointed a teacher aide in teh Sanborn media center and office; Mrs. Ruth Baer, math disability teacher-tutor at Doherty and Mrs. Janet Scheerer of Andover, teacher of the perceptually handicapped at East Jr. High.

The committee also approved salary differentials for special education teachers for the present school year.

Contractual differentials of $500 were given to special needs teachers Maryanne Bajakian, Patricia Corcoran, Judith McWalters and Kathleen Remmes.

Reading teachers will receive a $400 increase over last year and will receive differentials as follows: Katherine Costello, $700; Sheila LaMontagne, Maureen Mangiagila, Jane Markiewicz and Mary Lou Shea, $900; and Nancy Smith, $720.

Special needs teachers who will receive $300 increases over last year include Kerry Costello with a $700 total differential; Rebecca Hyman and Katherine Leith, $500; and Julia Parkhurst, $800.

At an earlier meeting this month, a total of 69 instructional aides (I.A.'s) and teacher aides (T.A.'s) were appointed for fall. By school, they include:

High School - - Maureen Hanawalt, I.A., English; Mary Jane Powell, I.A., learning disabilities; Molly Ryden, I.A., media center; Norma Tomlinson, T.A., department heads and Agnes Smith, T.A., media center.

Commission To Work On Sacred Heart

The Andover Development and Industrial commission has been asked to assist in finding a solution to the future of the Sacred Heart School property in Shawsheen.

The selectmen this week, in a letter to Dr. Lawrence F. Spiegel, chairman, asked the commission, "to promote the acquisition of the property be an industrial, commercial, residential or institutional user, whose development of the property will be in the best interests of the town."

The selectmen have set some specific guidelines for the commission to go by in attempting to solve the property's future.

Chairman Milton Greenberg said in the letter, that while there is some disagreement in the town on means and priorities, "almost everyone agrees that the property should not be left to the completely free market to determine its future."

Sacred Heart school and grounds have been vacant for the past year and a feasibility study committee established by the town, could determine no municipal use for the structure.

Town meeting in April refused to provide funds to develop a planning process for the entire Shawsheen area, with Sacred Heart as a core. Town meeting did provide land acquisition funds to obtain the playfields across from the building.

Shawsheen residents in recent weeks have expressed concern about the property future, noting in a communication issued by Mr. and Mrs. Larry Loughner and Mr. and Mrs. Charles DeLeire, that the purchase of the playing fields by a private developer is a distinct possibility in the near future. The communication urges contact with municipal officials to inquire about the status of the property and acquiring of the land as approved at the April town meeting.

The selectmen asked the development commission members to use the following as guidelines:

"(a) provide a good addition to the neighborhood which will, at a minimum, not detract and hopefully might enhance the community, specifically in regard to traffic, appearances, employment and services.

"(b) enhance the Town's tax base

"(c) result in the acquisition and/or control by the Town of the critical conservation and recreation portions of the property, as part of the conditions of development.

"Obviously, these objectives for the Town are not simply and easily attained. As policy guidance in attacking the problem we offer our support of one or more of the following "negotiating tools":

"(a) Establishment of an Industrial Development and Financing Authority to provide Industrial Development and Financing Authority to provide financing to prospective developers.

"(b) Support in presenting desirable zoning changes to Town Meeting.

"(c) Exploration with you of various other forms of assistance to prospective developers, if in your opinion these would prove necessary or desirable to achieve the Town's objectives and to help present such proposals to Town Meeting.

"We are convinced that your Commission is well-suited to this project and that it falls within the specific guidelines recently established between us. We invite you to meet with us at your early convenience to discuss ways and means of furthering this project as well as the very necessary liaison arrangements with other important boards, commissions and interested parties."

Art Guild Presents Four Scholarships

The Andover Artists Guild has awarded scholarships to four outstanding high school students in the Andover - North Andover area. The scholarship recipients from Andover High School are:

Ellen Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Young, 9 Abbot St., Andover. Miss Young, an honor student and National Merit Scholar, attended Phillips Academy's Short Term Institute Program, where she furthered her study of art and photography in the "Intensive Visual Studies" course. A selection of Miss Young's photographs have been published in recent issues of the Andover TOWNSMAN. With an interest in the performing, as well as the visual, arts, Miss Young has worked with the Andover Community Theatre as a member of the stage crew, and studies ballet under Mara Meier of the Andover School of Ballet. Miss Young will attend Mt. Holyoke College, where she will major in art history.

Maria Nicolosi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. James Nicolosi, 54 Birch Road, Andover. As participant in the Educational Involvement Program, Miss Nicolosi has been a student-teacher in the art classes at East Junior High School. As an art student, Miss Nicolosi won first prize in the Andover's Artists Guild High School Exhibit, a competition with entries from Andover and North Andover. Miss Nicolosi's interests include music, as well as art and education. For the past four years, she has played the flute and piccolo in the Andover High School Band. Miss Nicolosi also works part-time in the dietary department of Lawrence General Hospital. She will enter Framingham State College as an art major.

Virginia Eaton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Eaton, 233 Andover St., Ballardvale. Miss Eaton, who won second prize in the Andover Artists Guild High School Exhibit, also participated in the Educational Involvement Program as a student-teacher of art at East Junior High School. Miss Eaton's student activities include her election as class president during her freshman and sophomore years, and in her senior year, her services as art editor of the yearbook, member of the Student Advisory Council, and chairman of the Greater Lawrence Association of Student Councils (GLASC). Miss Eaton will major in art at Green Mountain College in Poultney, Vermont.

The Andover Artists Guild scholarship recipient in North Andover is Virginia Henshaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lenley M. Henshaw, 405 Johnson St. An active student at North Andover High School, Miss Henshaw has served as art editor of the school newspaper, the Squire, in addition to her work on the yearbook staff and membership in the Student Council. Miss Henshaw will continue her studies at the Art Institute of Boston.

The Andover Artists Guild has initiated its Scholarship Program this year to provide encouragement and assistance to outstanding students who further their education in the visual arts.

Town's Direction To Be Aired

Andover residents will have an opportunity next week to have a say in their town's future.

The Growth Policy Committee, a group of officials and citizens studying such topics as housing, jobs, the central business district and water, has called a public hearing for Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the West Elementary School Auditorium.

Results of the meeting will be passed along to the Merrimack Valley Planning Commission, which will have its own regional hearing in August, and then to the state level, where they could have an effect on legislation and planning.

The local committee, appointed by the selectmen, has already expressed its particular concerns via a questionnaire. According to Assistant Town Manager Sheldon Cohen, the very diversified group showed substantial consensus in their responses and generally agreed that the town is a desirable place to live, in terms of physical construction and the quality of services provided by local government.

The committee expressed great concern about the future of Andover, however, particularly about maintaining the character and quality of the community in the face of area wide economic problems, and about how much the town should grow.

Just less than 50 percent of the land zoned for residential is still undeveloped here, Cohen said, and there are still substantial amounts of industrial land available.

There must always be tradeoffs involved, Cohen said.

For instance, industry has helped stabilize the tax rate - 25 percent of the taxes are paid by industry and commercial concerns - and the construction of I-93 and I-495 have had a profound influence on the desirability of Andover for industry.

At the same time, however, those highways and industries have done their bit to change the flavor of Andover from a more rural community.

Some of the committee members cited good zoning, planning, building regulations and land acquisition and maintenance of older structures as helping maintain the character of the community.

On the other hand, some expressed concern over loss of community cohesion, increased volume of traffic, increased crime, overcrowded schools, the disappearance of farms and the high cost of housing.

In the last 10 years, population has increased about 2 percent per year (or 500 persons per year), while the number of dwelling units has increased about 2 percent or 160 units per year. At the same time, multi-family housing has increased until today, 27 percent of the town's stock of residential dwellings (2,300 units) are multi-family.

Since 1950, the number of active farms has dropped from 25 to two.

Still another matter of importance is the question of regional involvement: how far can a town go in regional planning and still maintain its home rule and ability to protect itself.

So far Andover has played a real leadership role in regional planning, Cohen said. It was instrumental in development of the Greater Lawrence Sanitary District and of the Northeast Solid Waste Committee. The town's water supply has become a regional resource - neighboring towns have been buying water during the current drought - though it was an investment originally made to cope with growth, not to solve regional problems.

Andover has also become an employment center, Cohen said, providing 9,000 manufacturing jobs to the Lowell - Lawrence - Haverhill area and helping to stabilize the economy of the entire region.

Cohen said the committee members expressed a real feeling that the town should do more in low income housing for families and for individuals, and another major issue sure to arise on Wednesday is the central business district: should the town place design controls on the CBD? Should the town spend money, for example through a mini-bus system, to help revitalize the CBD?

Members of the local Growth Policy Committee who will be on hand Wednesday night, are the chairman, Dr. Lawrence S. Spiegel; Selectmen Milton Greenberg, Alan F. French, Janet D. Lake, Susan t. Poore, Richard Bowen; Phillip Allen; Phillip Dargie; Planning Board Chairman David Erickson; Conservation Commission Chairman Virginia H. Hammond; Robert Finlayson; Mary Hamilton; Gail Anderson; Susan Dennett; Thomas Eldred; School Committee Chairman George Olesen, Town Manager J. Maynard Austin and Cohen.

Presidents At Peabody Museum

While the nation prepares for its latest Presidential election, it is singularly appropriate to reflect on its earliest ones.

Gilbert Stuart's portraits of the first five presidents are the heart of a special Bicentennial exhibit which opened recently at the Peabody Museum of Salem. The portraits of Washington, Adams, Jefferson, Madison and Monroe, on exhibit through the kindness of their present owner, Thomas Jefferson Coolidge, Jr., were painted between 1810 and 1825 for Colonel Gibbs of Newport, Rhode Island, a personal friend of the artist. After Gibbs' death in 1833, his widow sold the set to the Coolidges, whence it has descended through the family to the present time.

Accompanying the portraits are some examples of Presidential Chinese Export porcelain, Liverpool ware, and historic documents bearing the signatures of these famous Americans.

Among the porcelain on loan for the exhibit is a Chinese Export plate (1760) bearing arms attributed to the family of George Washington. It has been suggested that the Washington arms were the inspiration for both the flag and seal of the United States. There are also pieces decorated with the seal of the Society of the Cincinnati, an armorial platter from the Thomas Jefferson service, and an initialed dish which belonged to John and Abigail Adams. The Museum's own collections of English Liverpool ware supplied the Presidential jugs which are variously decorated with their names, portraits, and quotes. Historical documents are mounted on the walls, including invitations to dine with the Presidents, one them to then-Secretary of State John Pickens of Salem. There are also framed ship's passports, signed by each of the Presidents, which allowed a ship to trade in foreign waters.

The exhibit is on the second floor of the Museum's new wing, and will be open to the public through Labor Day. The Museum is open Monday - Saturday, 9 to 5. Sundays and holidays, 1 to 5. $1.50 for adults, 75¢ for ages 6 to 16, students with ID and Senior Citizens. Free to Salem residents.

A small catalogue of the exhibit will be available at the Museum's Sales Desk.

Powell Takes Over Osgood's

Nelson M. Powell, Inc., has taken over the John D. Osgood Company in Haverhill with a large inventory of lighting fixtures.

The Powell Company is in essence the same John D. Osgood firm which has been serving the Merrimack Valley since 1934.

The original business began on Bailey Street in Haverhill and eventually moved to Thornton ave., easily accessible from Route 495 at the Route 97 exit.

Powell has added large inventory to the already extensive line of lighting fixtures.

The personnel is experienced in the electrical and lighting industry and capable of service to both residential and commercial installations.

The Tall Ships

Newport harbor with sailing glory of another era, and "sailors" galore Sunday as "The Tall Ships", representing many nations, cruised in for a Bicentennial Salute to America. TOWNSMAN Editor Robert E. Finneran, on a cruise of the harbor with the Providence College alumni Board of Governors, photographed some of the majestic ships: upper left, the Russian Kruzenshtern, biggest of the Tall Ships, at 205 feet high, has to wait for low tide to go under the 200 foot Newport Bridge; lower left, some of the ships amid a sea of pleasure craft viewing the impressive tall-masted ships. Above, a gull and boat are dwarfed by the Portuguese Sagres II, Norwegian Christian Radich and American Eagle. Below, the Chilean ship Esmerelda. The ships will go to New York today, then come to Boston the weekend of July 10.

Andover resident T. Warsaw was praised by administrators and school committee members in Newburyport recently, as the educator after 16 years' service to the school system.

Warsaw, a teacher-lecturer in the school system, was named by Supt. of Schools Aaron Beckwith as one of the foremost people in the profession and a "super teacher" who is imaginative, organized, and gives energy to the school students.

School Board member Beckwith said, "it was one of the privileges of serving on the School Committee to meet an outstanding person like T. Warsaw."

Warsaw was on the Harvard Graduate School of Education beginning in 1962 as a summer program and research supervisor for intern teachers.

Reinhold's Changes Hands

A long established business in Andover changes hands today.

Reinhold's, founded as a shoe store, was taken over by William F. Reinhold some years ago. Following Reinhold's demise, the business continued being operated by daughter Mildred Carrie and husband Gilbert. Mr. and Mrs. Carrie are retiring.

The new proprietor, Louis F. Reinhold, of Farmington, Maine, a stranger to Andover, is a graduate of Phillips Academy. Following his years on the staff here, he attended and graduated from the University of Vermont in Burlington. Mr. Reinhold is well versed in the shoe industry. He has long experience as a sales representative of

Twomey Marathon Winner

The second annual Mini-Marathon of the Andover - North Andover YMCA was conducted on Sunday and despite oppressive heat the 3.3 mile event attracted a sizable entry and produced reasonably good times.

The distance event is scheduled to encourage joggers in training for physical fitness purposes to test themselves against the field. Conducted annually a further opportunity to compare times from year to year is afforded. YMCA Physical Director Walter J. Kimball, Sr., and the Physical Education Committee is in charge of the program.

Jay A. Twomey was overall winner with a time of 19:17 minutes, somewhat slower than the course record of 18:35. Second place went to Nicholas Orrick and third to Peter Oliver. Twomey also captured top honors in one of the divisions of competition, Class C for males 26-35 years of age. He was followed by second place winner William Robinson and in third spot was Mike Peltz. Orrick and Oliver competed in Class D for males 26-45 years of age and third place went to Bruce Johnson.

Alvin Parker was the winner in Class F for males 46 years and over and also won an award for the oldest competitor to complete the distance. Class B for males 18-25 years was won handily by Chris Courage. In a hotly contested Class A for male youth first place went to Olaf Westphalen who was followed in order by Kevin Hanawalt and Detlef Westphalen.

Janet Murnane was the top female performer and second to her in Class G for adult females was Donna Andreoli followed in third place by Janet Mead. The Class F female youth winner was Lisa Johnson. Kristin Oliver placed second and Kara Oliver was third.

Following the run and refreshing showers the entire group of athletes enjoyed a swim in the new YMCA pool and a social hour with refreshments.

Andover 4-3 Loser In Opener

Andover Sport Shop Soccer Club dropped a tight match 4-3 to Lexington at Sacred Heart Field last week.

The locals opened up the scoring at 10:00 of the first half with Jim Wood taking a chip from Dan Bernardin and beating a confused Lexington goalkeeper. Twenty minutes later Dave Vivian punched home the second Andover goal from a scramble out front with help from Dave Taggart and Bernardin. The defense held that 2-0 lead till the second half.

Andover had several good bids, but could not capitalize to knot up the match. Thursday the Andover Club travels to Topsfield for a 6:15 game at the Masconomet High School. The squad's next home game is June 29 at Sacred Heart vs. Winchester. All are welcome to come down and support the local booters.

Lexington made it 2-1 at 50:00 mark, but Taggart answered that with a quick goal five minutes later with an assist again to Bernardin. Lexington took control at this point with constant pressure at the Andover goal. Tim Dewhurst made a sparkling defensive play to save a goal, clearing an open net. Lexington's ball control was responsible for their three goal spurt in a 15 minute span to pull into a 4-3 lead at the 75:00 mark.

Summer Program Openings

Openings which remain in classes being offered this summer by the Andover - North Andover YMCA will be filled on a first come basis at the new YMCA building, 165 Haverhill St., Andover. The summer term is already under way but late starters may participate in most of the program offerings without problem. Detailed information may be obtained at the YMCA; some programs require full-privilege YMCA membership, others are open to the residents of Andover and North Andover, also to interested people from nearby communities.

Full privilege members will take full advantage of the new YMCA pool and an extensive offering of recreational swims for youth, adults, families, all members and Senior Citizens. Instruction on all levels is also available to these same people, as well as a variety of other programs. Also available, for the summer term only, is a short term full privilege membership for an individual youth or adult, or for families.

Boys and girls 7-12 years of age may enroll for Trip Club and participate in one or more weeks of programs on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, including Red Sox game, deep sea fishing, Canobie Lake, Benson's Wild Animal Farm, State Parks in N.H., etc. Summer Fun Club serves the same age group on Tuesdays and Thursdays with day-camp type activities in or around one of the three YMCA buildings in the town towns. Gymnastics School for Girls going into Grades 4-9, with or without prior training, is in session Monday through Friday, 9-12 a.m., as is the Kinder Kamp, a day camp program for preschoolers 4-6 years of age. Hundreds are being served with swimming instruction conducted in some 30 private backyard swimming pools.

Volleyball League Has Banquet

The Andover-North Andover YMCA Men's Volleyball League players enjoyed an "end of the season" banquet recently under the leadership of YMCA Physical Director Walter J. Kimball, Sr. and the Physical Education committee. Most of the regular participants attended the gala affair which concluded some thirty weeks of intra-class competition; informal play will continue all summer with competition resuming in September.

The after-dinner program was largely devoted to presentation of numerous awards, including many proffered strictly in fun. Jim Sellers served as M.C. and high point of the evening was the presentation of the "Outstanding Player" award to Satash Mukul with the approval of the entire group. "Improvement" awards were given to Kurt Herman, Marty Orrick, Nel Carbonell, Carl Byers, Dave Maynard, Bob Walmsley, Gerry Maccione, and Ray Bedell. Special awards were made in the following categories: Best Spiker -- Dave Davies; Blocker -- Dick Graber; Scooper -- Carl Byers; Server -- Dave Maynard; Team Player -- Charles Pulsford; Digger -- Dick Dunn.

Trophies were presented to the team which won the annual 3-Man Volleyball Tournament, including Charles Pulsford, Ed Tremblay, and Charles Wesson. Also recognized were the members of the three teams which won the seasonal sections of league play. The Fall Term 1st place team was the Beavers, including Jack Fitzgerald, Dave Davies, Dick Graber, Mark Kovacs, Ed Reynolds, Marty Orrick, and Steve Fletcher. The Winter Term Champs were the Raccoons with Gary Grant, Charles Pulsford, Dick Dunn, Peter Cervone, Ray Bedell, Gerry Maccione, Kurt Herman, Harry Schmitke, and Bob West. Spring Term competition was won by the Diggers with Ed Weil, Gary Grant, Marty Orrick, Kurt Herman, Peter Cervone, Mal Miller, and Dick Limburg.

Back In Pennant Race

By Rick Harrison

The Andover Babe Ruth baseball team thrust itself back into the thick of the Greater Lawrence League pennant race last week, sweeping to three straight victories while frontrunning Methuen was suffering two defeats.

The Andover crew, which departs this Sunday for Montreal, Canada, belted Prospect Hill 15-0, slipped past South Lawrence West 8-7 on Steve Serley's last-minute heroics, and slammed South Lawrence East, 15-2.

Methuen dropped one-run decisions to Tower Hill (5-4) and South Lawrence West (4-3).

The wide-open championship race now shows Methuen at 10-2, Tower Hill at 9-2, Andover at 8-3, North Andover at 7-3 and South Lawrence West at 6-5 entering action last Monday night.

Andover, 9-3 counting non-league play, faced North Lawrence last Tuesday night and Tower Hill yesterday evening, after TOWNSMAN presstime. Tonight the locals play host to North Andover at the Playstead (6 p.m.).

Prospect Hill, 15-0

Righthander Dan Grams registered his second shutout victory of the season, firing a four-hitter, fanning nine and walking only two.

His teammates wrapped the game up early, parading 15 batters to the plate and scoring 10 runs in the first inning.

Big hits during the stanza were a two-run single by Pete Feeney, and RBI singles from Bill Stahley and Brian Kelly.

Big hits during the stanza were a two-run single by Pete Feeney, and RBI singles from Bill Stahley and Brian Kelly.

Both Feeney (arm and eye) and Bill Stahley (eye) were returning to the lineup after injuries forced them to the sidelines for the first part of the season.

Andover jumped its lead to 13-0 in the third by scoring three unearned runs. The big blow was a run-scoring double by hot-hitting Steve Serley.

The locals made it 15-0 in the fifth, with the key safeties a two-bagger by Dave Farrell and a single by Dave Birnbach.

Grams, who spun a one-hitter against South Lawrence East earlier in the season, was working on another one-hitter entering the sixth. However, Prospect Hill batters Miguel Guzman, Paul Licciardi and George Beltre all singled to load the bases with two outs.

Grams worked out of the trouble by whiffing Jose Molina, and he then breezed through the seventh to preserve the shutout.

Steve Serley led the 11-hit attack with 2-for-2, and he also scored three runs before leaving the game early.

Dave Farrell was 2-for-5 with four runs scored, and Dan Grams helped himself with a brace of singles in four trips. He scored three times.

Chuck Souter hammered a double to complete the offensive fireworks.

SLW, 8-7

Steve Serley clouted a clutch two-out, two-run triple in the bottom of the seventh inning to boost Andover to its exciting 8-7 victory over South Lawrence West at the Playstead.

Serley's crucial three-bagger wiped out a pair of fine SLW comebacks, as the visitors had erased previous 5-0 and 6-5 deficits to take a 7-6 edge in the top of the seventh on Jack O'Keefe's two-out, two-run single.

The loss snapped a four-game victory skein for SLW, which continued on the following evening to sink Methuen.

Andover threatened to blow West off the field early, erupting for five runs after two were out in the first inning.

Steve Serley started the uprising by bouncing a single into rightfield, and Chuck Souter angled a double down the rightfield line to put runners at second and third base.

Dave Birnbach walked, and then Bill Stahley looped a two-run single to centerfield. Pete Feeney walked, and Brian Kelly added another two-run single up-the-middle. The final run scored on a wild pitch by SLW starter and complete-game loser Walt Wila.

slw began its initial comeback in the second inning, as Wila led with a long triple and scored easily on Don Nolet's sacrifice fly to straightaway centerfield.

West closed to 5-3 in the third, netting a pair of unearned runs without benefit of a hit, and they tied it in the fifth when Steve Kurek jumped on a Dave Birnbach knuckleball for a two-run single to leftfield.

Wila settled down beautifully after the first stanza, retiring 15-of-16 Andover batters between the second and sixth innings. The one that got away scored, however.

Dave Farrell led the fifth by laying down a bunt, and it was misplayed for a two-base error. Dave took third on a wild pitch, and scored the go-ahead run on a hustle play. Serley tapped back to the mound, and when Wila threw to first Farrell broke home and slid under the throw.

SLW came back in the seventh as Nick Guerrero reached on an error and Kevin Marquis singled. With one out Wila was safe on a fielder's choice to jam the bases. With two down Jack O'Keefe grounded a single through the shortstop hole for a 7-6 West advantage.

The Andover rally opened with a one-out, pinch-hit single by Bob Heidt. Dave Farrell then grounded into a forceout, leaving two down and a runner at first base. Farrell stole second and advanced to third on a passed ball. Dan Grams walked, setting the stage for Serley.

He picked on the first pitch and drilled it way over the centerfielder's head. Farrell and Grams, off with the crack of the bat, scored the tying and winning runs to complete the exciting contest.

Steve Serley started on the mound and worked three innings for Andover, allowing two hits, one earned run, walking three and whiffing two.

Dave Birnbach came on to hurl the final four frames, permitting four safeties, one earned run, walking two and striking out six. Birnbach collected the victory to jump his overall record to 4-2.

SLE Falls, 15-2

Andover scored in every inning, spraying 15 hits around dusty Mark Devlin Field enroute to the 15-2 conquest of South Lawrence East.

Dave Farrell and Chuck Souter handled the pitching chores. Farrell (2-0) worked the first four innings to register the victory, allowing two harmless fourth stanza singles, walking two and striking out two batters each inning for a total of eight Ks.

Souter was touched for three singles and a pair of unearned runs during his stint.

The locals assumed a 3-0 lead in the first. Dave Farrell singled, took second on a throwing error, and scored when Steve Serley rifled a double to right-centerfield.

Chuck Souter was safe when his outfield fly was dropped, with Serley taking third, and Bill Stahley slammed a two-out, two-run triple to deep leftfield.

In the second inning Brian Kelly led with a single, took second on a passed ball, and scored on Farrell's single. Farrell stole second base and raced home on Dan Grams' safety. Grams stole second and cruised to the plate when Serley clocked another double down the rightfield line.

The score jumped to 8-0 in the third, as Lary Larrabee's suicide squeeze bunt rescued Pete Feeney and Grams' RBI double accounted for the other tally.

In the fourth Chuck Souter stroked a sharp single to leftfield, continued to third when the ball was misplayed, and scored the ninth run on Dave Birnbach's long sacrifice fly to rightfield.

With two down in the fifth Dave Farrell and Dan Grams drew back-to-back walks. Steve Serley and Chuck Souter followed with run-producing singles, and a passed ball plated Serley to up the spread to 12-0.

Singles by Bill Stahley, Bob Heidt and Grams helped boost the ante to 15-0 in the sixth, before SLE hit the board in the bottom of the inning when Jim Rennie and Ed O'Callaghan singled prior to a pair of Andover errors.

Serley finished the game 3-for-5 with three RBI and two runs scored, while Grams was 3-for-4 with three RBI and two runs scored.

Dave Farrell went 2-for-4 and scored four runs, Chuck Souter was 2-for-3 and Bill Stahley 2-for-1.

Defensively Souter made two fine plays at shortstop before coming in to pitch.

Other East singles were by Mike Grillo, losing pitcher Tom Quinlan and Ed Pizzuto.

Batting

Andover continued to boast some hefty batting averages entering this week's action.

Steve Serley was leading the way with a .524 mark, having gone 22-for-42 including eight doubles and three triples.

Dan Grams was at .429 (18-for-42), while Lary Larrabee sported a .385 average, Dave Birnbach a .342 mark and Chuck Souter a .341 average.

Hovering just below the .300 pace were Dave Farrell at .280, Bob Heidt at .278 and Bill Stahley at .273.

Warriors Continue To Roll

The Andover Warriors continues to amaze the rest of the Northeast Baseball League with its play. During the past week they played three times, winning, losing, and tying.

The week began on a losing note as the Warriors were beaten Tuesday night by league-leading Boyle's 9-2. Boyle's parlayed 8 base-on-balls with seven hits for their runs while the Warriors got only two runs on their 6 hits and 1 base-on-balls.

The winning pitcher was big Paul Walton who stands 6'5" and goes about 240. Walton is a former member of the Kansas City Royals chain. The loser in his first start was Mike Campfield.

Andover's lone shining light was Mark Morreo. Morreo continued his hot hitting with a single and a 400 foot homerun to left centerfield.

In their second game of the week, the Warriors won a tremendous game by a 1-0 score over Timberlane. The game highlighted the sensational, unbelievable pitching performance of Andover High star Laszlo Kun. Kun came back to the Warrior roster only ten days after breaking his left hand. He proceeded to pitch and catch with only his right hand. Coach Kelley said that this was the type of performance that has set an example for the whole team.

Andover's only run came in the fourth on a single by Dave Robinson which got away from the rightfielder allowing Robinson to go to third from which he came home on the poor relay by the second baseman.

In besting Babe Carrington of Timberlane, Kun allowed only four hits, three base-on-balls and striking out seven. He was also aided by a solid defense.

The Warriors' third game was played on Monday night and found them battling back from a 4-1 deficit to gain a 4-4 tie while playing at Georgetown.

David Robinson pitched and batted Andover to the tie. David only allowed 4 hits, 1 walk and struck out seven. It was the one walk which proved to be the downfall as Georgetown scored three times in this inning, the third.

Andover bounced back with a run in the third as Robinson hit a homerun over the leftfield fence at the 340 foot mark. After getting another in the fourth on Biff Moriarty's single to right, a walk and Craig Traub's single, they added two more in the fifth as

Dave Robinson hit his second homerun of the game over the leftfield fence at the 360 foot mark. After one out, Mark Morreo lined a homerun to right center, his fourth of the season, to raise his season's average to .410.

The Warriors will be at home Thursday against Seabrook.

St. Augustine Students Get YMCA Awards

The annual presentation of awards earned in YMCA gym classes by St. Augustine School pupils took place at the school with YMCA physical education directors Walter J. Kimball, Sr., and Janet R. Mead doing the honors. For the seventh straight school year physical education classes were conducted by the Andover - North YMCA for St. Augustine School boys and girls in grades four through eight. All sessions were scheduled at the Brook Street YMCA satellite building, with over 200 students participating in the weekly classes.

Clutch Wins By Tigers, Giants Result In Ties

By Rick Harrison

With their backs pressed firmly against the wall the National League Giants and American League Tigers produced clutch victories earlier this week that created two-way ties for the second-half championship in both divisions.

The Giants, who were undisputed first-half NL titlists, nipped the Cardinals 5-3 Monday evening to leave both teams with identical 8-2 records for the second half.

The Tigers, meanwhile, slammed the Twins 15-4 on Tuesday night to put those two rivals in a flatfooted tie for the AL crown with similar 8-2 ledgers.

What happens now is a pair of one-game playoffs to decide the second-half championships.

The Giants and Cards will square off tonight at 6 p.m. at the Playstead, while the Tigers and Twins battle simultaneously this evening at 6 o'clock at the South School diamond.

Should the Giants beat the Cards, they would be undisputed National League kings and would await the American titlist for the annual Town Championship playoffs.

However, a Cards' victory tonight would force a best-of-3 playoff on July 4, 5 and (if necessary) 7 to decide the NL pennant winner and representative in the Town Championships.

The AL picture is somewhat less confusing. The Twins-Tigers survivor will go on to duel the first-half champion Red Sox in a best-of-3 series for the overall AL pennant on July 4, 5 and 7. The winner of that advances to the Town Championships.

The best-of-3 Town Championship series is listed for July 12, 14 and 15.

While all this was transpiring in the Major Leagues, the Minor Leagues were wrapping up their 1976 season in orderly fashion. Big news was the winning of the Minor League Town Championship by the Pirates, who swept their best-of-3 series against the Red Sox.

Following are details of the two key games this week, plus other season-ending action for non-contending clubs.

Giants, 5-3

The Cardinals, who had won eight straight prior to this game, jumped to a 3-0 first inning lead before finding Giants' winning hurler Jon Pelletier untouchable the rest of the way.

Pelletier finished with a crisp two-hitter and 11 strikeouts, as he outduelled Alan Morton who permitted five safeties and whiffed five.

The Giants battled back into the game by scoring twice in the third inning, and twice more in the fourth.

Pelletier aided his own cause with a two-run double, while red-hot Eric Teichert stroked two safeties, and timely hits were contributed by Scott Smith and Greg Sacco.

Pacing the winners' defense were shortstop Carmen Scarpa, catcher Bernie Kavanaugh, first baseman Eric Teichert, right-fielder Scott Smith and center-fielder Greg Sacco.

The only hits for the Cardinals were singles by Tim Grams and Doug Price.

The Giants now own a flashy 17-3 seasonal record, while the Cards are 14-6 to date.

Tigers, 15-4

The Tigers fell behind the Twins 2-0 in the first inning, but sent the game out of sight with four-run uprisings in each of the first three frames. The Twins added two in the third, while the Bengals' final three runs were netted in the fifth inning.

Scott Tobey went the route on the hill for the Tigers, scattering seven hits, fanning 15 and walking just two.

Scott Zimmerman led the offense with 3-for-4, including a double, while Tobey helped himself by going 2-for-4 and slugging a two-run homer.

Pete Rokicki enjoyed a perfect 2-for-2 evening, hammering a double and single, while two-baggers were added by Glenn Acciardi and Jack Kramer.

Steve Guschoy powered the Twins' counterattack with 2-for-3, including a double. Jeff Bruk was 2-for-4 with a two-run homer, and Dave Fredette rifled a double. Glen Obermeier was the losing hurler.

The Twins are now 13-7 overall, while the Tigers stand 12-8.

Red Sox, 7-4

The Red Sox closed out the second half a 7-4 winner over the Yankees, boosting their overall seasonal ledger to 13-7.

Tom Wilkins (4-1) chalked up the mound victory, allowing five hits, whiffing seven and walking five. Wilkins had not walked a batter until the sixth-and-final inning, but he then tired and needed relief assistance from Andy Emmert.

Emmert entered with the bases-loaded and one out, inducing the next batter to bounce into a doubleplay. It was the 14th twin-killing of the campaign for the Sox.

Tim Madden guided the victors' offense with 2-for-2, including a two-run double. Ted Kelley and Jeff Demers contributed RBI singles, and other safeties were by Dick Kelley, Joe Nerden and Tom Powers.

Mark Haddad continued his heavy slugging with a double, while the host of defensive stalwarts included shortstop Jeff Demers, second baseman Tom Powers, first sacker Mark Haddad and catcher Ted Kelley.

Steve Johnson did the most damage for the Yanks, going 2-for-3 with a run-scoring triple. John Maginnis hit the only other fly to the Sox outfield, and it went for a sacrifice.

Losing hurler don Minor, the first of four Yankee pitchers, joined Matt Slayton and Mike Romano with singles. Shortstop Robbie Slayton turned in several fielding gems for the Yanks.

Twins-Indians

Relegated to the role of spoilers, the Indians met the high flying first place Twins and in a game reminiscent of Custer's Last Stand, the Indians destroyed the enemy 21-2.

The game started with Tim Bolduc's striking out the the Twins in order, followed by a 12 run uprising in the bottom half of the inning. The tribe got 6 hits in the first inning, including a single and a double by Tim LaCourse.

Offensive stars for the winners were, besides LaCourse, Peter Byrne (two hits), David Fluet (3 runs), Bob Leber, Jeff Parker and Bolduc.

The defensive effort was anchored by Steve LaCourse, Gred McAnern and Pat Beaudine. Brett Pearson looked good for the losers.

Yankees-Indians

The surging Indians, in an effort to regain some of the pride lost in a disastrous streak of ill-fortune, met and conquered the mighty Yankees despite the timely hitting of the Slayton brothers and Glen McIntyre. Don Minor took the loss while Jeff Parker (4-1) notched his fourth victory. The final score was 12-2. The Indians were led by Bob Calder (2 runs), Jeff Parker (2 hits) and Tim Bolduc. Sparkling in the field were 10-year-olds Bill Foley and Garin Gint.

Tigers-Indians

In this week's key game, the Tigers went in (7-1) with a share of the division lead, but came out with the short end of a 7-3 score. Tim Bolduc with 10 strikeouts, 3 assists and a put-out got the victory and his towering three run homer over the wall in dead centerfield was the big hit of the game. Glen Acciardi made a valiant effort, crashing into the fence on Bolduc's blast, but "close" proved to be not enough all afternoon. Matt Wells and Scott Tobey kept the Tigers close 'til the final out.

Leading the team effort for the Indians were Rob Leber, Jeff Parker, Dave Fluet, Jim MacMillan, Bob Kimmerle and Greg McAnern. The victors shared the spoils at the local ice cream parlor after the game.

Major League National Giants, 13-6

The Giants skipped past the Cubs, 13-6, as starting pitcher Greg Sacco and reliever Jon Pelletier combined to hold the losers at bay.

Pelletier struck out five in his two brief innings of work.

Eric Teichert muscled a three-run double for the Giants, while two hits apiece were chipped in by Carmen Scarpa, Bernie Kavanaugh and Pelletier.

J.J. Downey ripped a long double, Albie Cullen spiked a run-scoring single, and Rick Apgar rifled a timely hit.

Kavanaugh also starred as catcher, gunning down a pair of Cubs' runner trying to take liberties on the basepaths.

The Cubs were sparked by Tom Galvin's two-run double. Jerry Weaver added a two-bagger and was outstanding defensively at shortstop, while Jason Powell spanked a single.

Gary Ewell made two unbelievable catches in centerfield to rob the Giants of further hits, and Galvin played well in right-field.

Giants, 12-4

Carmen Scarpa gave one of his sharpest mound performances of the season, spinning a three-hitter and whiffing 10 as the Giants dumped the Mets, 12-4.

Eric Teichert was unstoppable with a perfect 4-for-4 night and three RBI. Carmen Scarpa aided his own cause with two safeties and three RBI, while Jon Pelletier and Steve Smith stroked two safeties each.

Defensive leaders for the Giants were catcher Bernie Kavanaugh, shortstop Pelletier, centerfielder Greg Sacco and second sacker J.J. Downey.

Tom Derby clouted a double for the Mets, while other two-way topdogs were Gary Milne, Tom Fabiani and Steve Wennik.

Cubs vs. Pirates

The Cubs defeated the Pirates 11-8 in a game which was truly a team effort. Three Cub pitchers, Bob McLaughlin, Tom Galvin and Jerry Weaver, limited the Pirates to eight hits. Cub hitting was lead by Jonathan Crawford with two doubles as Jerry Weaver, Tom Galvin, and David Lyons also hit for two bases. Also hitting safely was Jason Powell, Colin Radford, and Jimmy Wiseman. Weaver and Radford combined at shortstop and second base for some fine defensive plays.

The Pirate offensive power was supplied by Mike White and William Feeney with two hits each, while David Factor, Brian Moriarty, Sean Norris and Randy Jones contributed a hit each. Pirate pitching duties were shared by Brian Moriarty and William Feeney.

Minor Leagues Playoffs Town Championship

The National Minor League champion Pirates left no doubt in anyone's mind about their superiority, drilling the American League titlist Red Sox 10-1 and 15-4 to sweep their best-of-three Town Championship showdown.

The Bucs received superb pitching from Andy Slade and Wayne Carver in the 10-1 opener, and Dave Fraser broke things wide open with a big three-run triple.

The second contest was tight for a while, with the Pirates clinging to a slim 5-4 advantage, but then Wayne Carver gave the champs all the breathing room necessary by belting a three-run homer.

Winning pitcher Bill Murphy pitched four strong innings of ball, while Todd Lawrie also hurled a pair of stanzas in the clinching game.

The Pirates thus completed an outstanding 14-1 season, while the Red Sox closed with the AL pennant intact and were owners of a 10-6 record.

Other Playoffs Second Place

The second-place Minor League playoff was won by the NL Cardinals, who edged the AL Angels 10-6.

Winning pitcher Dairmaid O'Donoghue, the Cards' ace chucker all season, did it again in the clutch with three innings of no-hit, shutout ball.

When O'Donoghue retired the Cards were sitting atop a 9-0 lead. The Angels rallied for two runs in the fourth and four in the fifth to make it close.

Tom Billings clouted a grand-slam homerun, a bases-empty blast and a single to drive home five runs for the winners.

Dairmaid O'Donoghue added three hits, including a triple, while Ed L'Italien slugged a double and Pete Johnson had a single.

The Angels received a three-run homer from John Sheridan, while Robbie Ozonian and Brian Sheehy unloaded doubles. John Nardoza and Sheehy shared the pitching chores for the Angels.

The result left the Cards with a fine 12-3 final record, while the Angels still won five of their final seven starts for a 9-0 slate.

The Cardinals have wrapped up the regular season with a 13-6 conquest of the Giants.

Dave Webster hammered three hits, including a homer, for the Cards. Ed L'Italien slugged a pair of doubles, Pete Johnson added a two-bagger, and two home runs were spiked by Todd Pat O'Donoghue and Tom Billings.

Dairmaid O'Donoghue collected the pitching victory. Tom Hepworth homered for the Giants. Appleton Levesque had two safeties and Wise garnered one.

Fifth Place

The NL Phillies eased into the playoffs, defeating AL Orioles 12-8 in the first game of the Minor League playoffs. Douglass notched the pitching victory, while the Phils' performance was provided by Paul Burke O'Neil with homeruns.

Craig Lebowitz and Pat O'Neil each had a pair of hits apiece for the Orioles.

Major League American Twins, 3-0

The Twins whitewashed the Red Sox 3-0 and eliminated the club from second-half title contention as winning hurler Glen Obermeier fanned three and struck out three.

Obermeier fanned three and struck out three, while the Sox were chalked up two runs in the fourth and a final tally in the fifth.

Jay Madden also pitched for the Sox, permitting three hits and three singles, whiffing three and striking out three.

The winning run was scored when Sean Trombly hit a home run off the bat of Madden for a bases-clearing walk. It was a classic between the pair prior to the game, as Trombly had off six consecutive 3-2's before Madden finally struck him wide of the mark.

Steve Guschoy and Andy Slade later chipped in RBI singles for the Twins, while the safeties were by Brent E. Brett Pearson and Brian Moriarty.

Dick Kelley led the game with a double off Obermeier and Ted Kelley added a single that did not score. Obermeier settled down and surrendered only a harmless single to Morris the rest of the way.

Steve Guschoy starred at first base for the Twins while his 9-year-old brother created some house problems by robbing Steve's sure-fire double with a catch in the outfield. Ted was also a fielding star for the Sox.

Watching from the side was Twins' player Dave C.

Babe Ruth Team To Visit Canada

The Andover Babe Ruth baseball team will depart for its third annual trip to Montreal, Canada next Sunday, July 4.

The club will be in Quebec for a total of four days, playing three games against comparable Canadian opposition during that time. Andover, comprised of boys ages 13-15, will be facing the East Montreal Rosemount team, the Southwest Royals and the NDG club. All three are classified in the "Midget Division," with players ages 14-16.

Last year the locals swept a pair of contests in Montreal, out-slugging St. Henri 11-8 and trimming the Southwest Royals, 7-4. Other activities are planned for the Andover crew, among them a visit to the "Man and His World" exhibit, attendance at a Montreal Expos-Cincinnati Reds National League game, and a possible tour of the site for the upcoming 1976 Summer Olympic Games.

While in Canada the team will reside at McGill University in Montreal.

Players making the trip are Dave Birnbach, Dave Farrell, Steve Serley, Chuck Souter, Dan Grams, Bill Stahley, Pete Feeney, Brian Kelly, Lary Larrabee, Bob Patterson, Wayne Merolas, Bob Heidt and Joe Cammarata.

The Andover team, currently 8-3 in the Greater Lawrence Babe Ruth League and 9-3 overall, is scheduled back home Wednesday night, July 7.

seven starts for a 9-6 overall slate.

The Cardinals had earlier wrapped up the regular-season with a 13-6 conquest of the Giants.

Dave Webster hammered two hits, including a homerun for the Cards. Ed L'Italien slammed a pair of doubles, Pete Johnson one two-bagger, and two hits apiece were spiked by Todd Pomerleau, Pat O'Donoghue and Todd Deery.

Dairmaid O'Donoghue collected the pitching victory.

Tom Hepworth homered for the Giants, Appleton and J. Levesque had two safeties each, and Wise garnered one hit.

Fifth Place

The NL Phillies eased past the AL Orioles 12-8 in the fifth-place Minor League playoff. Steve Dougal notched the pitching victory, while the Phils' power was provided by Paul Burke and John O'Neil with homeruns.

Craig Lebowitz and Paul laced a pair of hits apiece for the Orioles.

Major League American Twins, 3-0

The Twins whitewashed the Red Sox 3-0 and eliminated that club from second-half title consideration as winning pitcher Glen Obermeier fashioned a clutch three-hit shutout.

Obermeier fanned six and walked two, and his teammates chalked up two runs in the fourth and a final tally in the fifth inning.

Jay Madden also pitched well for the Sox, permitting just five singles, whiffing three and walking three.

The winning run was forced home when Sean Trombly worked Madden for a bases-loaded walk. It was a classic battle between the pair prior to the free pass, however, as Trombly fouled off six consecutive 3-2 serves before Madden finally threw one wide of the mark.

Steve Guschov and Andy Dion later chipped in RBI singles for the surging Twins, while other safeties were by Brent Ballard, Brett Pearson and Brian Peters.

Dick Kelley led the game by rapping a double off Obermeier, and Ted Kelley added a first-inning single that did not score his brother. Obermeier then settled down and surrendered only a harmless single to Tim Morris the rest of the way.

Steve Guschov starred defensively at first base for the Twins, while his 9-year-old brother Pete created some household problems by robbing Steve of a sure-fire double with a great catch in the outfield. Ted Kelley was also a fielding star at catcher for the Sox.

Watching from the sidelines was Twins' player Dave Collins, who suffered cartilage damage in his nose after being plunked by a pitch during the previous game against the Indians.

Red Sox, 15-6

Andy Emmert remained unbeaten (3-0) on the mound, firing a six-hitter as the Red Sox belted the Indians 15-6. Andy struck out five and walked six while keeping his record untarnished.

Ted Kelley powered the offense by almost hitting for the cycle. He lashed a single, double and triple for five RBI. Mark Haddad went 3-for-5, including a two-run double.

Jeff Demers entered the act with 2-for-3, a double, one RBI and three runs scored.

Tim Morris cracked a three-run double, Mike Coelho stroked a run-producing single, and Emmert helped himself by scoring three times.

The Sox' keystone combo of shortstop Demers and second baseman Tom Powers starred defensively. The winners also reeled off their 13th DP.

Tim Bolduc enjoyed a 2-for-3 evening, including an RBI double, for the Indians. Bob Leber spiked a two-bagger, Bob Calder singled, and Jeff Parker was a defensive whizz at third base. Jim MacMillan absorbed the pitching loss for the Tribe.

Red Sox, 10-2

The Red Sox struck for five runs in the fifth, after breaking the game open with four in the second inning, to sweep their seasonal series against the White Sox, 10-2.

Jeff Demers (5-2) hurled the distance for the victory, scattering seven safeties, fanning three and walking three.

Mark Haddad went 2-for-3 with a single, triple and three RBI, while resurgent Ted Kelley doubled, singled and drove home a pair of runs.

Joe Nerden, Jay Madden and Mike Coelho all were 1-for-1, while Tom Powers and Tom Wilkins drilled RBI singles for the Sox.

The fielding play of the game was turned in by Sox center-fielder Andy Emmert, who backed up against the South School fence to take a homerun away from White Sox slugger Mike Chiklis. Rightfielder Joe Nerden also played well for the victors.

Losing chucker Richard Grimm delivered a brace of doubles to help the Pale Hose, while Chiklis got some revenge by lashing a two-run single.

Other safeties for the White Sox were banged out by Dan Fleming, Jeff Lindquist, Doug Lindquist and Jay Robbins.

Catcher Ric O'Shea was sharp behind the plate for the WS.

Sixth Place

The AL Patriots erupted for six runs in the top of the seventh inning, snapping an 8-8 deadlock, and then blanked the NL Braves in the bottom of the stanza to win the sixth-place Minor League playoff, 14-8.

Winning pitcher Jon Baer worked four innings of relief, surrendering only one run and whiffing eight Braves' batters. Scott Belbin toiled the first three frames for the Pats.

Linda Weiner keyed the winners' offense with a homerun, while Brian Howell added four hits and starred defensively by cutting down a pair of Braves' runners at the plate.

Scott Harnden also lashed four safeties, and Robbie Veilleux delivered two hits as well as making a fine fielding play at shortstop for the final out of the game.

The Braves' Mark Redding, Brian Odell and Bill Brecker banded out three basehits apiece, while Jay Eldred stroked a pair of singles.

Mark Redding started on the mound and Charlie Gilliatt also pitched.

Mike Blair was the defensive hero for the Braves, making a spectacular over-the-shoulder catch in rightfield to erase a sure extra-base blow and two runs in the second inning.

Eighth Place

The NL Giants saved some of their best for last, nipping the AL Yankees 10-9 in the eighth-place Minor League playoff.

Scott Robichaud and Levesque provided the bulk of the Giants' attack with grand-slam homeruns.

Kevin Griffin was the winning pitcher, and Ned William saved the bacon with a late-winning clutch catch.

Fr. Martin TV Mass

St. Robert Bellarmine Parish in Andover - Tewksbury will add their own special touch to our nation's Bicentennial celebration, especially for the shut-in in cooperation with the Boston Catholic TV Center.

On July 4, at 7 a.m., on Channel 7, WNAC-TV, the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass will be celebrated by Rev. Jon C. Martin, Associate Pastor of St. Robert's. Of particular interest to Andover and Tewksbury residents who are house-bound is St. Robert's Choir and Chorus who, not only will sing for the Mass, but will add their voices to a Bicentennial tribute. As Fr. Martin explains, the choir and chorus can give a service to a greater number by having the group do this live performance.

An Important Anniversary

There is a rather important birthday observance this week.

We're 200 years old as a nation on Sunday.

As the anniversary of the founding of the nation on the principles of liberty and freedom is observed, we find ourselves still possibly suffering from some growing pains.

But, as a young Democracy, we have reason to be proud of our accomplishments in this, our Bicentennial year.

We can reflect on the fact that our founding fathers established for us a document which allows us privileges not known to other nations.

We have a political and governmental system established over 200 years ago which can be criticized, but hardly faulted in comparison to the processes of other nations.

For this, our forefathers struggled and sacrificed and through their efforts established a system by which we govern ourselves quite well, free of rebellious actions which accompany change in leadership elsewhere.

We have, at considerable sacrifice, lent our assistance to the preservation of freedom around the globe in these past 200 years. We have had internal strife in our history to resolve problems and differences.

Despite the problems, however, we remain a strong and vibrant nation, using the Declaration as the instrument through which we process our differences Democratically.

The anniversary of the founding of that Democratic process will be observed appropriately in Andover this Sunday.

The program, both solemn and joyous during the day-long event, provides participation for the whole family, which is, after all, the institution which has made our country great.

Beginning with special services at South Church Cemetery memorializing those who answered the call to arms 200 years ago, the program will continue with an ecumenical service at Cochrane Chapel, Phillips Academy, followed by breakfast.

In the afternoon and evening there will be various forms of entertainment and refreshments offered at the Playstead, the day being capped off with a brilliant display of fireworks at dusk.

It is a fitting salute to a significant anniversary.

The Judgment Could Be Costly

The selectmen this week, in effect, turned their backs on a possible $2,800,000 sewer project which stood a good chance of being funded by the federal government.

The town is already proceeding with one phase of a project to be accomplished with federal funding - reconstruction of the Riverina Road pumping station and some new sewer lines in sections of town.

But the next step in applying for funds for the sewer-ing of areas roughly bounded by Rogers Brook would have required possibly putting up about ten per cent of the funds needed.

Also, the competition for funds under the federal program is brisk and it was recommended that initial planning be authorized by a special town meeting, preferably in July.

The majority of the selectmen did not like putting up close to $200,000 in funds for the planning phase of the project, something they are not required to do in the pumping station phase of the project.

Also, they were opposed to a July special town meeting.

Earlier the board had voted to call a special meeting in August to provide funds to repair the high school roof.

We fail to see why the two items could not be combined in a July town meeting, the chances of obtaining a quorum being equal in either summer month.

Also, and most important, is the possible loss of the millions of dollars of federal funds for a needed service, additional sewer lines.

The Rogers Brook area is currently almost entirely on septic tanks, which provides problems either to the homeowner, or eventually to the town.

There is little liability in risking a couple hundred thousand dollars on a project of this magnitude just to get near the front of the line when Uncle Sam starts doling out the bucks.

Much of Andover's more recent sewer system expansions have been through the federal grant process.

While some may be opposed to the federal fund route, there are times when, quite frankly, if we don't get the money, someone else is going to and we're going to wind up paying for it somehow through tax dollars.

Our feeling is we should be prepared at all times to accept a federal handout of this type.

To put the matter off to the next annual town meeting, as the selectmen did Monday night, simply reduces the possibility of getting any help for the particular project.

It is a judgment which may, in the not too distant future, prove to be a costly one.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago - July, 1901

The town horses will be rested the day before the Fourth in order that they will be fresh and ready in case needed for any fires on the holiday. The town father directed the action at a special meeting this week.

The new steam fire engine for the town arrived Friday and was given a trying out at Hartwell Abbott's bridge Saturday afternoon. It is a handsome Amoskeag machine and will doubtless prove entirely satisfactory.

The New England Telephone and Telegraph company has nearly completed the work of laying underground conduits for wires from Lowell to Lawrence via Frye Village.

The golf match scheduled for Sunday between the Merrimack Valley Golf Club and the Andover Country Club was called off due to the intense heat.

McKenney and Waterbury of Boston have arrived in town to do placement of fixtures for the gas in the Musgrove building. They will begin their work on Monday and expect to be completed by Saturday.

50 Years Ago - July, 1926

It was 100 years ago on July 1 when the Andover National Bank opened its doors with an initial deposit of $100 from the Essex Turnpike Co. The offices were then in rooms on Main Street. This week it observes its centennial in a handsome building on Main Street.

William Oldin, Esq., delivers historical address to members of Punchard Alumni Association. Classes of 1925, 1976 and 1981 take top prizes for total attendance.

George Adams, president of the Class of 1926 at Punchard, began his new duties with the Lawrence Gas and Electric Co. Monday. Mr. Adams is learning the underground cable system.

The Boston and Maine railroad has agreed to construct a new bridge for the underpass on Haverhill Street and will ask the assistance of the state, county and town in financing the project.

Medals were presented to the following students for excellence during graduation exercises at St. Augustine's school Sunday: John Woodrow Crowley, Mary Agnes Mooney, Gerard Joseph Winters, Margaret Cecelia Morrissey, Elizabeth Catherine Beer, and William Malcolm Murphy.

25 Years Ago - July, 1951

Rezoning of a section of Shawsheen Square which would extend the business district, was defeated at a special town meeting Monday night, while at the same time the small turnout of voters approved $10,000 to purchase land adjacent to the Central School.

Consensus among the selectmen now points to the Musgrove block as the prime site for relocating the town's municipal offices.

It now appears that Pumps Pond will open for the season. The drought stricken "municipal pool" will be reduced in size due to the low water level.

The school committee is expected to set some minimum standards for new teaching personnel, which could include requirement of a master's degree. The matter will be discussed at the next session.

Turano Appointed To Board

Gov. Michael S. Dukakis has appointed Vincent S. Turano of 191 Brentwood Circle, North Andover, as faculty member of the accredited School of Engineering of the Board of Certification of Operation of Wastewater Treatment Facilities.

Turano, 35, is an assistant professor of engineering at Merrimack College.

"I am pleased to announce this appointment," Governor Dukakis said. "Turano brings to the Board of Certification of Operation of Wastewater Treatment Facilities integrity and achievement in the engineering field."

Turano received a bachelor of arts, masters, and doctorate degree from Syracuse University. He is affiliated with the conservation commission of North Andover and is active in the Merrimack College community. Turano will serve until January 24, 1981 in the unsalaried position.

WEEKLY SPECIAL

Kissinger vs. Mrs. Brown

by Jack Anderson
with Joe Spear

WASHINGTON — We've finally found someone who can stand up to Secretary of State Henry Kissinger. Her name is June Brown. Here are the details.

The American ambassador to Lebanon, Francis Meloy, was recently killed by Arab extremists. Kissinger was eager to rush an experienced diplomat to Lebanon to continue the peace efforts there.

Kissinger selected the distinguished L. Dean Brown, who had headed an earlier, special peace mission to Lebanon. He spent five weeks in war-torn Beirut and received several assassination threats for his efforts.

Brown was willing to go back as permanent ambassador but only on one condition. He said Kissinger would have to call his wife and get her approval.

Kissinger telephoned Mrs. Brown. He is world-famous for his powers of persuasion, and he used them on her. But June Brown was adamant. There was "no way," she said, that she would approve her husband's returning to Beirut.

She explained that the slain ambassador had been a friend of hers. Under the tragic circumstances, she said, she couldn't possibly agree to the appointment of her husband as Francis Meloy's replacement.

Kissinger reluctantly accepted her veto, and another diplomat, Deputy Assistant Secretary of State Talcott Seelye, was chosen for the job.

On the Road — Transportation Secretary William Coleman requires a lot of transportation. He takes more trips than any other member of the Cabinet. He began traveling just one day after he was sworn into office, and he has been on the road constantly ever since.

From government files, we have obtained the documents on his travels. We have counted 71 separate trips during his first 14 months on the job. The list of places he has visited reads like an atlas — from Miami to Montreal, from Boston to Los Angeles, from Seattle to New Orleans.

He flies off on the slightest excuse to make a speech, for example, or to pick up a trophy. Wherever he flies, he travels in style in one of the Coast Guard's sleek planes. It costs the taxpayers $532 an hour to keep the secretary in the air.

We tried to get his comment, but he was out of town on another junket. When he returned, he called to say that his trips help him to understand transportation. He uses a Coast Guard plane, he said, to save time.

Ulterior Motives — Secretary of State Henry Kissinger's abrupt endorsement of black majority rule in Africa was dictated in part by harsh economic reality.

U.S. trade with African nations is on the upswing. During the recession year of 1974, for example, American imports of raw materials from Africa rose steadily.

State Dept. economists predict, moreover, that Western dependence on African raw materials and markets will continue to grow. Furthermore, U.S. trade with black African nations is increasing, while American business with the white-ruled countries is slowly dwindling.

At the same time, the African continent is in political turmoil. All across Africa, Communist-backed "liberation" movements are fighting for control of governments.

In order to stem this "red tide," Kissinger went to Africa in May and proclaimed a new U.S. African policy which emphasizes "majority rule." This would mean bringing African blacks into the white-controlled governments of Southern Africa.

Kissinger couched his new approach in highly moral tones. But the classified accounts of his trip reveal less honorable motives. According to the secret State Dept. documents, Kissinger was attempting to "organize assistance to African states in return for political support."

Why? Because, said the confidential reports, "The natural resources on which the world depends are threatened."

Henry Kissinger, in short, has looked into his crystal ball and seen that the future of Africa is painted black. If we are to remain economically healthy, he has determined, we have to go with the winners.

Condition Confusion — The brass hats apparently don't know what their own secret code signals mean.

A few days ago, we called the Pentagon to inquire about the meaning of the phrase, "Defense Condition One." The Army colonel who took the call said he had never heard the term used. He took an informal poll of his office. The "general consensus," he then told us, was that "Defense Condition One" meant that everything was in a normal state.

Several minutes later, the embarrassed officer called us back to tell us he had been mistaken. "Defense Condition One," he said, is the military signal for an all-out nuclear attack.

Sad Song — Congressional investigators have discovered one possible reason why so many disabled and senior citizens rarely get their Social Security checks on time. The bureaucrats at the Social Security Administration, it seems, have formed a band. They are supposed to practice during the lunch hour. But frequently, they get carried away and make music into the late afternoon.

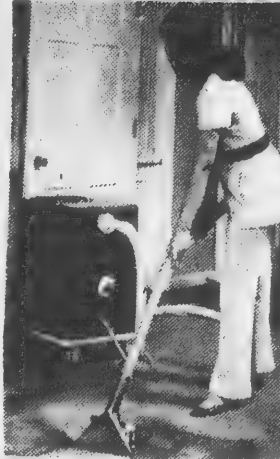

Hale to the Chief? — President Ford has been portrayed unfairly as a dullard. It may hurt him, but he can still make light of it. Recently, he gave a Rose Garden greeting to the young participants of the National Spelling Bee, and he congratulated them on their ability to spell difficult words. He was especially impressed, he said, because he couldn't even pronounce many of the words, let alone spell them.

For Those Of Us Who Are Older

Been looking for everyone at The Haven? If you have been looking at the Barnard Street address, you will not find anyone there! They are all over on Essex Street in the old Theater Building, which is now The Haven headquarters. They are keeping the same hours, but there is lots more room and there will be lots more to do as soon as everything is set up. Why not come by so you can rejoice with them?

The need for drivers for The Haven wagon continues. Drivers are needed to provide transportation for shopping, doctor's appointments, etc. If you find yourself with time on your hands, let Mrs. Doris Hudgins, Haven Director, know and she'll be glad to put you to work.

The hot lunch program has been terminated for the summer, but check with The Haven for dates of pot luck lunches they are planning throughout the summer. Whenever possible they will be announced in these columns, too.

And if the hot summer is getting to you, start thinking about a trip The Haven is planning for the fall to Pennsylvania Dutch country. The trip is scheduled for Sept. 27 through Oct. 1 and should be fun. Check with The Haven for details.

It is not too early to reserve your ticket for the Ginger Rogers Show at the North Shore Music Theatre in Beverly August 21. It will be a matinee performance and will include lunch and a fashion show at the theater and all for $7.75.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Emmons

Observe Golden Jubilee

Mutual friends introduced Thomas Emmons of Lawrence to Dorothy Margaret Hawes of Pawtucket, R.I. in that town back in March, 1922.

They were married at a home wedding in Providence June 2, 1926. Rev. Edward Russell Evans officiated.

The marriage was blessed by two children, Barbara Lee, wife of Ralph Hansom of Andover, and Thomas Arthur Emmons, Jr.

of North Andover. They now have four granddaughters and a grandson.

In honor of their golden wedding anniversary, they were feted at a party hosted by their children at the home of Mrs. Charles Ziegenbein on Lovejoy Road, Andover.

Mr. Emmons was formerly with Emmons Loom Harness Co., Lawrence.

Honored By Pythian Sisters

Mrs. Bertha Shirley of Andover was honored with a reception held recently after being recently elected and installed as the Grand Chief of the Pythian Sisters of Massachusetts, succeeding Mrs. Dorothy Libby of Brockton. The reception was given by Somerville Temple 18 of Somerville, where Mrs. Shirley is a member.

Among dignitaries of the Order who attended the reception were Grand and Past Grand Officers of the Grand Temples of Connecticut and New Jersey, Mrs. Dorothy E. Kay of Fall River, a Past Supreme Chief of the Pythian Sisters of the United States and Canada, and Daniel Serkin, Grand Chancellor of the Knights of Pythias in Massachusetts, and his Board of Officers. The subordinate Temples of the Pythian Sisters and subordinate Lodges of the Knights of Pythias were also well represented at the affair.

Receives B.A. Degree In Business

Elizabeth S. Urdang of Andover received the bachelor of arts degree at Franklin and Marshall College's 189th annual Commencement.

David Riesman, the noted Harvard University sociologist whose books include "The Lonely Crowd", gave the commencement address and received an honorary Doctor of Humane Letters degree at the ceremonies witnessed by more than 3,500 persons.

Urdang majored in Business Administration at the 2,000-student coed liberal arts college. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Urdang, 5 Rose Glen Drive, Andover and is a 1972 graduate of Abbot Academy.

At Convention

Joseph O'Meara of 1 Marie Drive, Andover, was among more than 18,000 people attending the 61st convention of Kiwanis International in San Diego, Cal., June 20-23, 1976.

Patriotic Motif

Plant Clinics Planned By Group

The Massachusetts Horticultural Society will hold free Plant Clinics and Demonstrations at Horticultural Hall every Wednesday evening from 4 to 7 p.m. throughout the summer.

The first clinic will be held on Wednesday, July 7, and the general public is invited to bring gardening questions or sick plants for study by the experts from the society.

Each week, the clinics will start with a question and answer session, followed by a demonstration lecture on a gardening topic, then more questions and answers, to 7 p.m. Topics for the demonstrations will be:

July 7, repotting; July 14, terrariums; July 21, propagation; July 28, ferns; August 4, pests, diseases of houseplants; August 11, cactus and succulent dish gardens; August 18, pinching and pruning; August 25, super-market gardening.

The Plant Mobile of the Horticultural Society will be at each seminar, with free hand-outs with instructions on different phases of gardening.

The main purposes of the clinics are to make all the resources of the Horticultural Society available to the general public - - to answer individual questions of New England's gardeners.

People are encouraged to bring in problems - - be they sick houseplants or general questions about outdoor gardening. If bugs or a disease are plaguing vegetables or plants, a sample leaf can be brought to the clinics, and the experts can identify the problem and prescribe a solution.

By looking at a houseplant, the Horticultural Society staff members can tell if it is overwatered, if it does not receive enough sunlight - - or any of the other common problems that hurt plants.

Frequently last year, people brought in large boxes of plants, with individual questions on each one.

The clinics will all be held at Horticultural Hall, 300 Massachusetts Avenue, Boston, opposite Symphony Hall. In good weather, they will be held outside on the Falmouth Street side of the building. In case of rain, they will be held indoors. There is no admission charge for the clinics or demonstrations.

In addition, the library of the Horticultural Society, the largest of its kind in the country, will be open each evening of the clinics to 7 p.m.

Salads Inviting For Summer

Cold, crisp salads are inviting fare for hot summer days, and the fresh produce coming in from local farms suits the purpose to a "T", suggests the Massachusetts Department of Food and Agriculture.

Popular salad ingredients that Massachusetts growers are harvesting now include lettuce, spinach, cabbage, radishes, scallions and chives. The prices are reasonable.

"Romaine" or cos varieties of lettuce are grown extensively in our state. The long, crisp dark green leaves of this loaf-shaped head are perfect for a Caesar salad or to toss with other greens.

"Butterhead" varieties have soft, succulent leaves with a buttery flavor that form a rosette pattern. Boston lettuce is grown locally, and also some Bibb and Buttercrunch.

"Leaf lettuce" is easily recognized by its clustered but non-heading leaves. Salad Bowl is grown in this area, and also the Oakleaf variety, which has a deep reddish color on the leaf edges.

"Crisphead" varieties, commonly called iceberg, are widely known by their round, compact heads. Only limited supplies are now grown locally, but it's interesting to note that before plentiful shipments from California began several years ago, iceberg type lettuce was grown extensively in southeastern Massachusetts.

As for other salad ingredients, fresh spinach is on the rise in popularity. Once served only in a mixture of greens, spinach is now often featured solo with a vinaigrette dressing and a sprinkling of crisp crumbled bacon and/or hard cooked egg. Cabbage remains a favorite in a crisp, cool cole slaw, and for a garnish and added flavor to your summertime salads. Be sure to toss in some radishes, chives or scallions!

Salmon And Peas For Holiday

Many of our New England culinary traditions never lose their appeal, and salmon with fresh green peas is the one to remember for this year's special Fourth of July, suggests the Massachusetts Department of Food and Agriculture.

Fresh salmon was always a "special occasion" dish, and it's likely to remain so, for its limited availability is unfortunately reflected in its price.

Most of the salmon on the market now is coming in from the West Coast, but Atlantic salmon will be more available in August and September.

Fresh Massachusetts fish is generally most plentiful during the summer months, however, so for a more reasonably priced fish than salmon, choose from cod, pollock, haddock, ocean perch or whiting.

The custom of serving fresh green peas with salmon on the Fourth doubtless began because the vegetable was in season.

Most fresh peas on the market today are from local farms. One of the first crops planted by Massachusetts growers, peas can survive the cold, early spring days. Their harvest season lasts only from late June to mid-July, so savor them while you can!

While this fresh delicately flavored vegetable has remained popular through the years with

'Lullaby' On Stage At Playhouse

There's nothing musical about "Lullaby", the hilarious comedy by Don Appell that will be presented through Sunday, July 4 at the popular air-conditioned Town & Country Playhouse in Salem, N.H. Hailed by the Saturday Review as "a very funny entertainment", the comedy will bring New York's Lyndsay Reed in the much maligned role of the mother, a real comedic show stopper.

The bright and bouncy Lyndsay Reed has been rapidly earning a reputation as one of the finest comedy actresses in New York City, having performed leading roles in "Sweet Charity", "The Apple Tree" and "Applause". This is her first starring role in Salem this summer, having appeared last week in the widely acclaimed "Jesus Christ Superstar".

"Lullaby" starts the funny bone reeling when a 38 year old truck driver runs away from home to elope with a likeable cigarette girl. The cigarette girl suddenly realizes on her wedding night that she has married a momma's boy. Mother eventually finds out the situation and takes it upon herself to save her baby. The fun and hilarity builds up until all breaks loose in this wild comedy from the Broadway sixties.

"Lullaby" will be presented nightly Wednesday through Saturday at 8:15 p.m. and Sunday at 7 with a matinee Thursday at 2. Tickets can be reserved now by calling (603) 893-8301 with special reduced discount tickets available to senior citizens, students and children. The air-conditioned Town & Country Playhouse is located in the new Salem High School complex and is easily reached from all areas at exit 1 off Interstate Route 93 opposite Rockingham Park with plenty of free parking.

WHAT CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CAN do for a family.

It can bring an understanding of God's closeness and care, helping each one in the family in everything he does.

It can develop a deep love for the Bible, and joyful obedience to God's law.

It can teach every member, and the family together, to heal problems in the way Jesus showed.

How can Christian Science do all this? Through Sunday School classes that strengthen children. Through Sunday services that inspire parents. Through Wednesday testimony meetings where personal accounts of healing are shared. Through Reading Rooms where truths are pondered in quiet. Won't you invite Christian Science into your family's life?

Selectmen Disturbed; So Are Postal Officials

While Andover selectmen are disturbed at the U.S. Postal Service for making site selections without first consulting the town, the postal officials are apparently equally concerned about delays in their planning process.

The selectmen this week protested the post office intent to provide customer service in any new facility they construct in Andover, as reported in another publication recently.

Chairman Milton Greenberg said he had contacted the office of state planning and noted that the postal service was starting the cycle again of picking a site, then informing the town. He said all officials, including congressmen and senators, would be informed of the town's opposition to customer service at a new facility, while maintaining full public service at a downtown location.

But, the postal officials appear to be a bit disturbed at the constant delays being placed upon them in their facility planning.

John Raftus of the real estate office of the postal service said this week that the continued delays were proving costly to the department.

With building costs increasing all the time, delay in planning processes represents financial loss.

Raftus said the postal service was willing to cooperate with planning and other local officials in the location of a postal processing plant, but that the delays are representing increased costs.

The postal service has an option on Dale Street site for its processing facility.

A decision on whether the postal service will exercise the option and proceed with the planning and construction of a facility may be made next week.

Town Manager J. Maynard

Austin has requested a conference with Regional Director John Walker, who has been out of town, but is expected to be back by next week, Austin said.

Earlier this year the post office department dropped an Andover Street site owned by Sidney P. White following considerable protest by local residents and officials.

The Dale Street location was announced several weeks ago in the TOWNSMAN, with planning consultants, the town manager and planning officials reaction to the site two weeks ago.

The selectmen at that time strongly indicated a desire to retain full service in downtown Andover, and at the present post office location, even to the extent of, possibly, the town's purchasing the building and leasing it back to the postal service.

The selectmen also urged that no customer service be provided at any new facility.

Last week, postal officials revealed that there would be customer service at the Dale Street or any location, but that downtown service would be maintained.

Chairman Greenberg Monday night said he would ask if the reports printed last week were accurate and would consequently object to the decision on public service at the new facility.

Selectmen Alan F. French said he felt the post office department was not cooperating in the planning process and that the problem with location of the new facilities was with the postal service and not the town.

Appointed Associate Directors

The Lawrence Cooperative Bank Board of Directors announced the appointment of 18 associate directors from the Greater Lawrence area.

The addition of the associate directors will serve to broaden the bank's representation in the community and various business and social segments. Further, the appointments represent one of many new concepts implemented by the bank over the past year to improve its community involvement, broaden its competitive base, and provide more and better services for the people of Greater Lawrence.

The concept of associate directors is unique in the Massachusetts Cooperative bank industry, and to the bank's knowledge, the Lawrence Cooperative bank is the first cooperative bank in the state to utilize the concept. It is quite possible that over a period of time other Massachusetts cooperative banks will follow the lead of the Lawrence cooperative bank.

The associate directors include:

Waldemar Arndt, 30 Heath St., North Andover.

Richard G. Asioan, 6 Dean Circle, Andover.

Harold Doynton, Jr., 267

Osgood St., North Andover. Robert A. Finlayson, 20 Ivy Lane, Andover.

E. Haffner Fournier, 85 Pembroke Road, North Andover.

Barbara G. Moody, 12 Suncrest Road, Andover.

Atty. Harold Morley, 256 Dale St., North Andover.

Paul J. Proulx, 1812 Turnpike Road, North Andover.

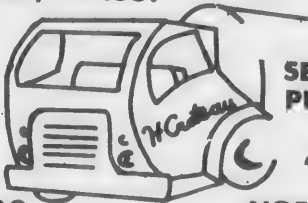

Stephen J. Scully, M.D., 61 Essex St., North Andover.

THE ROAD CAR. DRIVE IT!

Review: The Saab GLE. Standard equipment includes a specially designed interior, automatic transmission, power windows, power steering, electrically controlled die-cast aluminum wheels, electric remote controlled outside mirrors. Available only in Saab's Metallic Finish.

Cars are made to be driven. Driven in a way that lets you know just how well your car can perform. And driven on the kinds of roads that really take your car for a ride. Roads with curves. And hills. And plenty of bumps. For this kind of road, we have made a special kind of car. The Saab. The kind of car that can really take a lot of hard driving. Because every Saab has front-wheel drive to pull you firmly through every turn. Rack-and-pinion steering like most race cars for responsive, precise control. Power-assisted four-wheel disc brakes for fast, fade-free stops. But the only way to appreciate how well a real road car can perform is to drive one. So we invite everyone who really likes to drive to test drive a Saab. Once you do, you'll see why we say Saab is what a car should be.

Miss Crane Appointed Director

Miss Cathy Crane of 56 Elm St., North Andover has been selected to be Director of the Kinder-Kamp of the Andover - North Andover YMCA. The appointment was announced by Chairwoman Miriam Andrews of the YMCA's Pre-School Program Committee which includes Kay Grace, Bonnie Rowe, Gayle Taylor, Barbara DeNitto, Donna Ying, and YMCA Program Director Elaine Kent. The new director is a North Andover native, graduated from St. Michael's Grammar School and North Andover High School, and attended the University of Massachusetts studying "Child Development" before going to Salem State College from which she graduated in 1975 with a B.S.Ed. in Early Childhood Education. Since graduation Miss Crane has served as a substitute teacher in the local schools and as an aquatics instructor at the local YMCA. The Committee members, all trained in programming for pre-schoolers, are planning an excellent day camp type program which will take advantage of the new YMCA building, its grounds and equipment. In addition to the usual program for pre-schoolers which includes crafts, nature study, and recreational group activity, the YMCA program will offer physical training with some excellent new equipment and swimming instruction.

The Kinder-Kamp will operate from 9 a.m. to 12 Noon, Monday through Friday and in this second season will be extended to eight weeks on the basis of its popularity a year ago. Children may be enrolled for one or more weeks and applications are presently being accepted at the new YMCA building, 165 Haverhill St., Andover. The first week will begin June 28, and boys and girls 4-6 years of age are eligible including individuals who do not presently hold YMCA membership.

Peruvian Artifacts On Display

Woven hangings, hats, belts and purses, all handmade in Peru, are on display in the main reading room of the Library. Other items in the exhibit include leather bags, carved figures of Huamanga stone, hand-carved gourds and ceramic figures. Most of the articles in the display are from the ancient city of Ayacucho. These items are on loan from Susan Aitel-Zapata.

Speed-Reading Course

A new session of the speed-reading course, taught by Victor Sanborn, started on Monday, June 28 at 10 a.m. This course continues for eight weeks and costs $25.

Reference Books
Of Special Interest

The next time you are planning a trip to New York City to visit art galleries, be sure to plan ahead by using our new reference book Locus. Locus is a directory of New York galleries arranged by artist and by gallery. You can tell immediately which gallery represents your favorite artist, what the hours of the gallery are, and who else is carried by the gallery. An extra bonus is a geographical listing - which galleries are near each other (and how many blocks you have to walk between them).

Holiday Hours

The Library will be closed all day Monday, July 5 in celebration of Independence Day.

which plan is recorded in North Essex Registry of Deeds as Plan No. 5739.

Children's Room News
By Ruth Hooten

The first week of July begins our Summer programming. On Tuesday, July 6, the first meeting of the Story Garden will take place at 10 a.m. This will be a pre-school story-hour for children ages 3½-5 years of age. There will be 45 minutes of stories, games, and easy crafts. Hopefully, if the weather is fine, we will be having the stories outdoors. For your convenience there will be no registration required, just drop in.

On Wednesday, July 7 at 2 p.m., we will be showing our first full length movie of the summer, Bedknobs And Broomsticks. Admission is free to anyone with a library card. Since the movie is two hours long, parents are asked to stay with children under 6 years.

If you haven't signed for Summer Reading Club as yet, there is still time. If you want to join Group I (grades 1-3) come to the first meeting on Tuesday, July 6 at 2 p.m. and sign up. If you want to join Group II (grades 4-6) come to the meeting on Thursday, July 8 at 2 p.m.

Ballardvale News

The Ballardvale Branch of the Memorial Hall Library has summer hours on Mondays and Thursdays from 2 to 5 and from 6 to 8. In addition, the following summer programs have been planned for every Thursday morning in July from 10 to 11.

July 1 - Movies and Registration for Summer Reading and Crafts Club (Open to ages 6-12).

July 8 - How to Make Carnations - given by Susan Parker and Julie Hirsch.

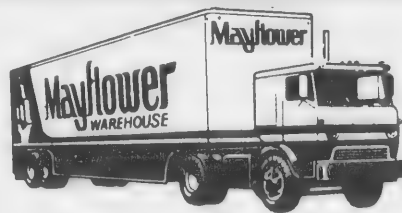

July 15 - Origami Paper Folding - given by Sharon Anatanavich.

July 22 - Clay Modeling - given by John Madden and Mark Townsend.

Coho Salmon Program Under Study

The Massachusetts Division of Marine Fisheries requests the cooperation of sport and commercial fishermen in reporting catches of coho salmon in Massachusetts coastal waters.

As part of the Division's program to determine the feasibility of establishing a manageable sport-fishery for coho salmon, 48,000 juvenile salmon were released in the Indian Head River, Pembroke during the Spring of this year. These fish and 13,000 adult salmon resulting from the 1975 stocking are expected to be at large in the marine waters from Cape Cod to New Hampshire.

In order to gain knowledge of the marine stage of the coho salmon's life cycle in the Massachusetts waters, the Division requires information on any catches made at sea. Data such as numbers caught, date, location, size of fish and any other observations would be of value to the program. Of particular importance is the absence of any fins, which were removed on some fish to identify their origin. Catch report cards will be available at many bait and tackle dealers for the convenience of anglers. Reports may also be made by phone to Division of Marine Fisheries offices.

of game booths for both young and old to try their luck.

The popular holiday refreshment booths will provide the usual complement of pop corn, cotton candy, hot dogs, candy, tonic, ice cream and snow cones.

The special bicentennial fireworks display will be set off at dusk, capping off a full Andover salute on the nation's 200th anniversary.

Three Are Colby Graduates

Three Andover residents were among the 132 Massachusetts residents who received A.B. degrees from Colby College, Waterville, Maine, May 30.

Susan E. Hannigen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hannigen, 93 Summer St., was a Spanish major. She previously graduated from Andover High.

Raymond W. Petzold, son of Mrs. Shirley Petzold, 31 Memorial Circle, majored in chemistry at Colby. He was a graduate of Phillips Academy.

Scott L. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gail Smith, 33 West Parish Drive, majored in psychology. He also was a graduate of Andover High.

Special Session

Selectman Richard J. Bowen suggested that failing to obtain a quorum, he felt the selectmen should take steps to insure that the project would be undertaken.

Supt. of Schools Seifert suggested that failing to get the necessary voters, then the state bureau could be approached and apprised of the emergency status of the project.

Bowen then moved for the Aug. 16 special meeting, noting that it would require that much time to satisfy all the planning for the project and legalities involved. It would also allow bids to be called and a firm price given to voters at town meeting.

Agreed unanimously was that the roof could no longer be patched, such action simply being a waste of money.

The roof has been leaking for the past few years, most seriously this past year. Total reconstruction is recommended in some areas, including insulation.

If the project could not be accomplished before winter weather, then some classrooms would have to be closed, according to school officials.
